

Partners

The WA-NWS partnership will target Western Addition residents who have a desire and/or need to be connected to neighborhood based workforce supportive services. The partnership will give priority to residents in public or subsidized housing in the 94115, 94117 and 94102 zip codes as well as those residents who may have multiple barriers to employment.

Develop Intentional connections

"As we face these difficult economic times, we are committed to getting people connected to training and educational opportunities that will allow for a greater ability to compete as the economy recovers."

Rhonda Simmons - Director of Workforce Development

Goals of the Office of Economic and Workforce Development (OEWD) - Workforce Development Division:

- Provide information about employment and training opportunities to City residents
- Work with other City departments and stakeholders to develop a pipeline of qualified, skilled job candidates
- Coordinate workforce and economic development efforts to support San Francisco's workers and industries

This guide is a snapshot of programs available to residents in San Francisco, specifically the Western Addition.

The guide is a product of the Western Addition Neighborhood Workforce Services partnership (WA-NWS). WA-NWS is a symbol of the Office of Economic and Workforce Development's commitment to support Western Addition Residents to achieve success in employment.

The WA-NWS partnership is a series of coordinated community and neighborhood based services offered to supplement the Western Addition One Stop, support the strategy of OEWD and provide information to the residents of the Western Addition.
